Plans for the Masonic picnic at Dover next Tuesday portend a great event. The members of Ogechee Lodge are to be hosts to their families and friends, both within and without the order. All Masons in the county are urged to attend and bring their families.

A large quantity of meats for barbecue purposes have been donated, and nothing will be left undone to make the occasion a pleasant one. No dinner baskets will be allowed.

THE MASONIC PICNIC

Lightning kills two on Augusta golf course

Augusta, Ga., June 9.—Mr. R. Roy Goodwin, a prominent Augusta business man, and Mr. John L. Sauer, of the Hotel Review, New York, were killed, and nearly a dozen well-known citizens of Augusta were injured here Sunday afternoon when a tool house in which they were seeking shelter from a rain storm was struck by a bolt of lightning.

The men had been playing golf and ran into the tool house, on the links where they were playing, from what appeared to be a light shower. The rain developed into a violent thunder and electric storm, and when lightning struck the tool house every person in it was injured.

Returned soldier whips his former teacher

Arcadia, Fla., June 6.—William Henderson, discharged soldier, has a good memory. He returned home to teach on a station platform he saw a school teacher who had thrashed him with a barrel stove when he was a boy. Henderson immediately proceeded to return the thrashing, with twelve years accrued interest.

Arraigned in court, he was reprimanded and proceeded on his way. The teacher is still wondering how it all happened.

ALLIES PLAN TO 'INVADE GERMANY'

EVERY DETAIL IS WORKED OUT FOR A MILITARY CAMPAIGN ALL ALONG THE FRONTIER.

Paris, June 17.—If Germany refuses to sign the peace treaty, the allied armies will launch immediately one of the greatest and most decisive campaigns in history.

While the public generally is inclined to think of an advance into Germany under present conditions as little more than a triumphal parade in which no resistance will be met, Marshal Foch has been obliged to be prepared for an emergency. The allies would move forward with every detail worked out for a campaign extending from the Dutch to the Swiss frontier—designed to give Germany a death blow in the shortest possible time—against the maximum force which the unified allied command knows the Germans might throw into action in a crisis.

The allied campaign, according to the Belgian army, with the British army, would be a surprise attack, designed to break down all possible defense, seize the most important points in Germany and cut that country completely to two.

The allies' left wing, consisting of the Belgian army, with the British army, would be a surprise attack, designed to break down all possible defense, seize the most important points in Germany and cut that country completely to two.

Simultaneously, however, the allies' right wing, composed entirely of the bulk of the French army, would drive out from the Alsace-Lorraine front, where they have the advantage of a great depression before them extending for eighty miles, and which would lead them directly up to Germany's big southern fortress at Tann.

Here the allied military authorities figure that principal resistance would have to be made between Tann and Ingolstadt.

With these two actions in progress the big decisive stroke would be completely smashed head on by the allied army, composed of the American army centered at Coblenz, the French army at Mayence and the French army now in the Bavarian Palatinate. The allied center has before it the great route of invasion of Germany by way of the valley of the Main, which flows into the Rhine below Frankfurt. The main valley leads directly across Germany into the mountains of the Bohemian border. Although the meandering of the river makes this route long, it is only ten days' march across Germany at this point. This drive would be supported completely the northern from the southern half of Germany. German military strategists have long considered this Germany's most vulnerable point and for that reason figured in the event of a French invasion southern Germany must be defended by Austria. But with Austria no longer able to aid her, Germany's weakest point would be thrown open and exposed to the allied thrust.

Eventual linking up of the allies' center with Bohemia would give them complete control of the valley, which constitutes the region most vital to Germany's existence. As a consequence, caught on the north by the British fleet, on the south by Bohemia, cut in two by the allied armies and with her two great productive centers lost, Germany would be completely crushed.

Whatever resistance Germany may be able to offer to the allies in their drive along the Main valley would, according to French military authorities, be in the vicinity of Wurzburg, where the rocky forest-covered mountain heights of Rothen constitute a strong natural barrier, which the Germans long ago recognized and fortified accordingly. However, with the Americans descending on Weimar from Coblenz, the French Tenth army on Hanu from Mayence, and the French Eighth army on Wurzburg from Mannheim, the allies would have in their possession all the leading routes and starting points for the encirclement and capture of the Massif of Rothen. Back of this position is another natural defense in the forest of Thuringia and still back of that is the big fortress of Erfurt, built to defend the entrance to the plains of Saxony.

While the central and principal action would be in progress the allies' left wing would continue its drive from Essen in the direction of Minden and the right wing from the fortress of Ulm would push on toward Nuremberg.

Against such a plan of action, Germany in its present disorganized state without a fleet to protect it against the British navy, without sufficient artillery or other material would be put up a serious defense. Nevertheless, the allied military authorities are taking no chances and the campaign as planned provides for the overcoming of the maximum resistance the Germans might make.

MOB SEARCHING FOR WHITE MAN'S SLAYER

NEGRO KILLED RAYMOND CANNON ABOUT AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR DUBLIN.

Dublin, Ga., June 16.—For twenty-four hours a mob estimated at from 300 to 400 men has been searching for Herby Cummings, a negro, who shot and killed Raymond Cannon 15 miles from Dublin Sunday afternoon.

Cummings was seen by the mob plunged into Campbell's mill pond six miles from the scene of the killing, and there most of the mob has been since the tragedy. He has either drowned, escaped or is still hiding in some clumps of bushes in the pond, which is large and old.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Cannon was driving his car just a short distance behind the car of Buster Wells, a negro. Wells suddenly stopped, and before Mr. Cannon could stop his car he bumped into Wells' car, making a small dent on the gas tank. He and Wells had a short argument about the accident and had reached an agreement when Cummings butted in by saying to Wells that he saw the white man run into Wells' car and not to make any such agreement with him.

Mr. Cannon immediately told Cummings to keep his mouth out of it, which enraged Cummings, who ran into his house, just opposite where the accident happened, got a shotgun and covered Mr. Cannon with it.

Witnesses state that he held the gun on Mr. Cannon for about half a minute when Mr. Cannon suddenly jerked his pistol and fired at Cummings. The negro fired at the same instant, sending a load of buckshot into Mr. Cannon's face and breast, killing him on the spot.

Cummings left at once. If captured by the mob now hunting him there is little chance for him to escape lynching.

Mr. Cannon was about 30 years of age and had been back from the army only a short time. He leaves a widow and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cannon.

SOLDIERS ARE FORBIDDEN TO COMMERCIALIZE TITLES

The War Department authorizes the following:

In response to several requests for information, reply is being made that the War Department strongly disapproves of the use by officers of the army, of their title to advance private ventures; that although a record of long and honorable service in the army carries with it a security for financial dealing, it is not calculated to augment the possessor's judgment of the value of reliability of commercial propositions; that, furthermore, an officer's title is conferred upon him for military service and the War Department does not consider that he has any right to use it as a commercial asset. It is considered that such uses of his title places him in an attitude unfavorable to him as a soldier.

AMERICAN TROOPS BATTLE MEXICANS

MACHINE GUNS ARE USED AS THE AMERICANS ADVANCE ON TRENCHES OVER PLAINS.

El Paso, Tex., June 16.—American troops sent into Mexico last night to stop the indiscriminate firing across the border fought their first general engagement with the Mexican rebel forces of Francisco Villa at the Juarez race track shortly after 2 o'clock this morning and the Americans were victorious. Villa's troops were driven from the race track by rifle and machine gun fire and many prisoners were reported taken by the United States cavalry, which took up positions on the left and southeast of the track, according to an official report at military headquarters.

The Mexican rebels and federal troops fought in the streets of Juarez Saturday night and Sunday night, many on both sides being killed. Many bullets from the rebel guns came across the Rio Grande and two persons were killed and seven wounded on the American side.

When the Mexican bullets became too thick for the safety of citizens of El Paso, Brig. Gen. J. B. Erwin at 11 o'clock last night ordered American troops to cross the border and within ten minutes after the order was issued, 3,600 United States soldiers were in Mexico. The first troops to cross the border were the Fourth Battalion of the Twenty-fourth Infantry (negro), a battalion of the Eighty-second Infantry and the Fifth and Seventh Cavalry.

After the Mexican federal forces were allowed to retire from the town of Juarez, Col. Haddell's negro infantry opened with a terrific rifle fire on the trenches flanking the race track. They advanced in open order and succeeded in dislodging the Villa forces who held the strongest positions, as the negroes were forced to advance across a comparatively open plain. The first volleys were answered, shot for shot, by the Villa troops, who seemed to realize that they were trapped by the cavalry in the rear and the infantry in front.

American machine guns started sputtering from adobe houses near the race track and the preponderance of rifle fire was soon with the American forces. The preliminary artillery preparation having been completed, the shrapnel guns became silent as the rifles took up the work. The explosion of Mauser and American cartridges could be plainly distinguished from military headquarters in the Mills building in El Paso, where Gen. Erwin was an interested spectator from his tenth story window.

As the American cavalry maneuvered over Juarez plain their positions were marked by green rocket flares and were answered by similar star shells from the top of the Mills building. Colored seed production in Juarez, indicating the Villa forces were defeated and were driven into the hills or pursued by the United States cavalry.

The American artillery was stationed in positions from which the Juarez race track where the Villa rebels were quartered could be shelled with shrapnel. A fighting movement was begun in an effort to prevent the escape of the rebels.

In announcing his action in ordering Americans into Mexico, Gen. Erwin in a formal statement said he had done so to prevent the indiscriminate firing into El Paso by rebel soldiers, endangering the lives of Americans.

"But on account we were to undertake an invasion into Mexico," continued the statement. "As soon as the Villistas have been dispersed and the safety of the citizens of El Paso assured, the troops of my command will be withdrawn to the American side of the border."

Maj. Gen. DeLoach Cabell, commander of the Southern Department of the army, is expected to arrive here today from San Antonio.

An American soldier shot and killed a Mexican sniper who fired on him from the top of an adobe house at the intersection of Ninth and Stanton streets this morning. Orders have been given for the American soldiers to shoot any sniper. A wounded and another Mexican who were on the roof with the sniper were captured.

CROP CONDITIONS REPORTED FAVORABLE

AGRICULTURAL BUREAU MAKES REPORT INDICATING HIGHER PRICES COMING THIS FALL.

Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—Authentic reports from all parts of Georgia to the State Department of Agriculture indicate that crop conditions are such as are most likely to command good prices for products the coming fall.

There has been material deterioration in cotton during the last two or three weeks. The cool weather and showers have been favorable to the excessive growth of grains, while cotton growth has been retarded. Reports to the department show that there has been a material reduction in the cotton acreage, and that through the southwestern to the southeastern portion of the state the boll weevil is exceedingly active and will do much damage.

The reports as to the condition of cotton coming to the department are exactly in line with those promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, and indicate strongly a material reduction in the amount of the Georgia cotton yield.

In addition to bad weather conditions, considerable trouble has been experienced on account of the shortage of labor. Many sections of the state have indicated a demand for cotton choppers, and on many farms, as the result of the inability to obtain them, the women and even young girls are working in the cotton fields. This is a state of affairs which the south proposes to remedy just as soon as possible.

Reports indicate a fairly good stand of corn all over the state. Where there is a large number of hogs and cattle, the velvet bean acreage seems to have been materially increased. Sorghum is being planted extensively, both for forage and syrup; and rice is said to look better than any other crop. One advantage from the rainy weather has been the planting of a larger sweet potato acreage and a favorable condition for a larger yield. Tobacco is looking well and the acreage, particularly in "bright tobacco," has been largely increased. The tendency has been to plant a larger acreage of peanuts and more to the acre. This crop is said to be making considerable progress.

Peaches began to move the latter part of May and the number of young trees which have just come in to bearing the first time, is tremendous. Middle and South Georgia will have an unusually good crop.

Reports from all over the state show that more tractors and binders and improved farm machinery are being used than ever before. These labor saving devices are helping very much.

It is an interesting fact that Grady county grows the largest part of the collard seed crop used in the United States. Collard seed production in Georgia is said to be unusually satisfactory this year.

GREENAPPEALS FROM FINDING OF MAYOR

EXPLAINS THAT REFUSAL TO SEEL ICE WAS DUE TO SHORTAGE AT HIS PLANT.

Fined $25 in mayor's court last Thursday evening for refusal to sell ice to certain individuals in Statesboro, A. B. Green, manager of the Green Ice Company, appealed to the city council for a re-hearing of the case.

The charge against Mr. Green grew out of his refusal to sell ice to certain former patrons of a rival ice dealer in Statesboro last Thursday. This refusal caused a storm of protest, and a case was made against him in the mayor's court, as was mentioned last week.

In course of his action, Mr. Green stated that, having found himself confronted by competition in the local market early in the season, he began to cast about for other markets for the output of his factory, which he found in other towns; that at the time the local dealer here (his competitor) ran out of ice, his own customers were using his entire product, and that his first duty was to serve them; that he refused to serve the other man's patrons because he had not sufficient ice for them and his own customers. At the same time, he

DO YOUR BEST.

Everyone should do all he can to provide for his family and in order to do this he must keep his physical system in the best condition possible. No one can reasonably hope to do much when he is half sick a good part of the time. If you are constipated, bilious or troubled with indigestion, get a package of Chamberlain's Tablets and follow the plain printed directions, and you will soon be feeling all right and able to do a day's work.

GOVERNOR MAY PARDON CONVICT WHO IS DEAD

Raleigh, N. C., June 16.—Governor Bickett is today considering whether he can pardon a dead man, Forney Williams, 22, an escaped convict, who was killed in France as a member of the A. E. F. in 1918, in order that Williams' mother may collect $10,000 insurance from the government. As a fugitive from justice, Williams was not eligible to serve in the United States army, it is said, and there is some question as to whether the government will pay the insurance money to his relatives. Governor Bickett said today he would have pardoned Williams prior to his death had he known he was serving with the American forces. "If pardoning will get that boy's mother the money, I am going to do it," the governor stated.

ABOUT RHEUMATISM.

People are learning that it is only a waste of time and money to take medicine internally for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and about 90 out of 100 cases are one or the other of these varieties. All that is really necessary to afford relief is to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. Try it. It costs but 35 cents per bottle. Large size 60 cents.—adv.

PRESIDENT WILL STUMP COUNTRY FOR LEAGUE

LAUNCH BATTLE FOR COVENANT, REALIZING HE HAS A FIGHT AHEAD.

Washington, June 16.—President Wilson is to take the stump. He is coming back from Europe within thirty days. Probably he will get here in time to make a speech on the Fourth of July at some central point like St. Louis. He wants the people of the country to understand the exact meaning to them of the treaty of peace and League of Nations. First, as a matter of courtesy, he will address congress presenting the treaty himself in person. Then he will appeal to the American people.

Official announcement of the president's plans came from the White House after the receipt of cable messages from Mr. Wilson. He has been watching the situation in the United States closely from abroad. Summaries of opposition, opinion and details of the fight being made by his opponents in the United States have been sent to him regularly. President Wilson's decision to go before the people of the United States himself means that he is fully aware of the storm of criticism which has been raised against both the treaty and the league and he is coming back for the biggest fight of his career.

The journey of the president west, extend from coast to coast. It will be non-partisan. The invitation to speak in St. Louis, for instance, has come from Senator Spencer, Republican, as well as a committee of Democrats. If Mr. Wilson speaks first in St. Louis, he will have an opportunity to meet the same people from whom Senator Reed, Democrat, says he derives the right to oppose the League of Nations.

Senator Spencer's position is simply this: He has not yet announced how he will vote on the final issue. But he welcomes the chance to have President Wilson give the people of Missouri a report on the proceedings at Paris. Presumably Mr. Spencer will follow the wishes of the people of his state as manifested, after they have heard both sides.

The president will have started for Belgium tomorrow to make the trip which he long ago promised that he would make. He will be back in Paris on Friday. The Germans are expected to sign the treaty before the end of the present month. The president wants to get back in time for a speech on the Fourth of July, but it would not be surprising if the delay attendant upon the final signing of the treaty prevented him from doing so. As soon as the German position is known, however, the president will start back. He may not await the purely ceremonial part of the signing. Possibly the official text will be carried on a steamer that leaves Europe after Mr. Wilson does.

The president is anxious for Republican help. His critics say he should have started earlier and should have consulted congress more or selected peace commissioners representative of the Republican party. But Mr. Wilson presumably will tell why he has not consulted congress more heretofore. He will give a detailed report of the change of situation in Paris and will ask for support not on any personal basis but on a basis of national interest in the future—the issue of more war and chaos or a reconstructed world and ultimate peace.

The president is said to be in fighting mood, ready to tell the people what embarrassments are in store for them in the future if they allow party politics to divide them in these critical days. His plea will be for a united country so that America may prosper and enjoy the fruits of peace. The Republicans have been having things all their own way in congress. Mr. Wilson doesn't believe the country wants the League of Nations made a partisan question or that the American people sanction the position recently taken by the leaders of the Republican party.

LIFT CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corn, callus and "hard skin" on bottom of foot, then lift them off. When Frezzone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

THE INVALID AND THE BARBECUE.

The picnic season is near at hand— if, in fact, it has not already arrived. These occasions are most delightful, and are made the more so by the hearty co-operation of the people in contributing to the necessary arrangements. And a barbecue dinner would not be complete without a crowd there to swell the occasion and clear the tables after the invitation had been extended to do so.

D'jever notice, though, how often there are those present eager to do more than their share towards cleaning up the table, so eager that they will even begin the race before the signal is given, and while others, more respectful of the properties, are waiting for an even start?

Sure, you have noticed it. But d'jever learn the excuses which can be offered for their rash? Well, you ought to get close to the serving table for half a minute some time just before the grace is said and the sprint is about to take place. The men in charge of the barbecue could tell you interesting stories of the plausible excuses given them why baskets and plates and boxes and pans ought to be filled just a little ahead of the mad rush.

Some few years ago we happened to be close by at this tense moment. The table had been carefully spread uniformly with the good things from town and end. There were trays of hash, piles of sliced meat and bread, bottles of pickles, etc., etc. And just at the moment, the thing was about to happen we noticed an active number of able-bodied men elbowing through the crowd and begin deliberately piling their trays and plates with the choicest of the good things. They were thoughtful of others who were not able to help themselves. One man carried a tray large enough to serve a battalion of soldiers, and he was piling up the ration for a "little sick child" another had a shoe box in which he was carrying rations to a "crippled boy" another—

Well, we might not tell all the reasons offered why these vessels should be filled.

But as we watched the proceedings, we wondered what "a little sick girl" could do with twelve pounds of solid food at one sitting, or how a crippled boy could get outside of a shoe box full of rations. We didn't see the invalids, but we knew they were close by, for the able-bodied men made a bee-line to secluded spots nearby and sat down. The cases were apparently very serious, for the friends of the invalids had gathered round, and their distress was apparent on their faces. We wondered if the sick one had become suddenly so, or if she had been ill when she left home. We wondered if the "little crippled boy" had been injured on the grounds, or if his injuries were of long standing. And we were filled with anguish at the thoughts of distress so near at hand.

Honestly, though, the men who run barbecues tell us that the story is nothing new to them. They tell us that from time immemorial it has been true that baskets and boxes of perfectly solid foods have been lugged out from the tables under such guises as these. They tell us that it is the rarest thing in the world that crippled or sick girls are actually present at such occasions, or able to eat extensively when they are. They tell us that it would be just as satisfactory and more truthful for men to come up openly and say, "I'm hungry and can't wait," or that they are taking a running start on the balance of the crowd when they seek to fill their vessels in advance. They tell us that one man has no more right to do this thing than a hundred men have to do it, and that when everybody tries it at once, there is sure to be disorder and confusion. They tell us that men who are considerate of others will not really do this thing—and that in Bulloch county it is never done.

And they tell us that when our big Fourth of July occasion arrives and eight or ten thousand people are here to be served, that all the people will be patient and act civilly without trying to run the "cripple" or the "sick girl" gag over everybody. We believe they will.

ICE AND SUGAR.

The little foreer in local circles last week at the refusal of the local ice manufacturer to sell ice to those who had not previously been his regular patrons, calls to mind the sugar situation last summer when Mr. Herbert Hoover was teaching us how to whip the Germans by saving sugar. Many of us remember with shuddering the sugar scramble for a thimbleful of sugar when a fresh allotment was received by any Statesboro grocer. We remember how the announcement of the arrival of a ship was the signal for a line-up in front of the grocer's door from opening hour in the morning till the supply had been exhausted. We remember, too, how our favorite merchant always gave us an inside hint that he could spare us a little if we were quick, and how the man we had not bought from regularly always told us he was just out, while at the same time his regular customers were getting service from him. We remember, maybe, how we espied a sack of sugar reposing in some secluded corner unopened while the merchant was calmly informing the occasional patron that the stock was exhausted. We believed then that the merchant was justified in withholding a small supply for those who were his regular patrons, especially if it happened to be our merchant taking care of us—now did we not?

And now we are wondering if any of those merchants who did that same thing with sugar last summer were howling last week when the local ice man found himself forced to make a choice between serving his regular patrons or those of his rival?

We don't know that the situation was similar in the ice matter, but it might have been. At any rate, it does seem that there was a question of letting somebody go without. The man who was forced to go without was not in the collar—as usual.

NESSMITH HOME BURNS WHILE FAMILY IS ABSENT

The handsome country home of Mr. B. D. Nessmith, five miles west of Statesboro, was destroyed by fire last Tuesday about noon, during the absence of the family at the Masonic picnic near Dover. Neighbors seeing the flames managed to save the piano and a small amount of furniture. Besides the dwelling, which was valued at not less than four thousand dollars, the smokehouse and its contents were destroyed. The barn was saved only by the large trees standing between it and the dwelling. Mr. Nessmith's home had recently been equipped with an improved lighting system, making the loss in that respect quite heavy.

RIGGS HOME GOES UP IN MID-DAY FLAMES

The residence of Clerk of the Court D. N. Riggs was destroyed by fire last Friday, the flames originating in the ceiling from the kitchen flue.

By prompt work, the neighbors and the firemen were able to remove practically all the household goods from the burning building.

The residence of Mr. Horace Waters next door caught a number of times during the fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

BRANNEN LOSES BARN

Mr. E. A. Brannen, a farmer living six miles west of Statesboro, lost his barn with all its contents by fire yesterday afternoon. Besides all the feedstuff, a number of calves and pigs were lost in the fire.

BOLL WEEVIL MEETINGS.

Last week we were able to get Prof. L. E. Rast, boll weevil specialist, for two days, and I arranged for meetings in the lower part of the county, as there seems to be a heavier infestation there than in other parts. Next week, on Thursday, the 26th, he will hold two meetings, one at Port St. 8:30 a. m., and one at Middle Ground school at 10:30 a. m. This is his last time.

These meetings will be held near cotton fields. Prof. Rast will show the different life stages of the boll weevil. Also the use of the dusting gun in handling calcium arsenate, which is the only remedy recommended by the government to be mechanically applied. The farmers in these sections who expect to dust or fight the weevil, be at these meetings so we can get the latest information in handling the weevil.

BONUS NOW PLANNED FOR GEORGIA SOLDIERS

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED TO GIVE MEN THREE MONTHS PAY.

Atlanta, June 16.—Judge Harper Hamilton of Rome, who recently returned from distinguished service overseas with the 307th Ammunition train, has announced that he will introduce a bill in the next general assembly of Georgia, which meets on the 26th of this month, to pay from the treasury of the state three months salary to every Georgia man serving the nation in the war, who was not and is not at the time of demobilization a part of the regular army establishment.

Judge Hamilton, in making the announcement, said that Floyd county was the second county in the whole country in percentage of voluntary enlistments in the war.

He cited in support of his proposed measure that many of the states voted and started paying bonuses long before the Federal government, and that Massachusetts even paid each man in the service from her borders the sum of $10 a month.

PAVING WORK PROGRESSING

The street paving work has been progressing at a rapid pace during a past week, there having been little interruption by the weather. The last of the grading is completed, and all concrete foundations are laid except the short distance between the Bank of Statesboro corner and the Central depot.

STOP ROT ON WATERMELON STEM END.

Do you know what stem-end rot cost you last year? It cost the four Southeastern States 2,500 carloads of watermelons. Florida growers suffered heavily. Whatever the loss was, reduce it this year. It's possible. Here's how: Collect in barrels or boxes and remove from the field all rotted melons at least once a week. Handle all melons carefully to avoid bruising and cutting. Leave no stems as possible in cutting melons from vines. Load fruit within a few hours after picking. Clean the cars thoroughly before loading and bed melons with dry straw. Line the sides of the cars with heavy paper and seal that the ventilators are opened. Don't neglect treating stems with disinfectant paste. This should be done as the melons are loaded, the stems being recut, leaving about an inch attached to the melon, and the paste applied to the freshly cut stems with a small brush. Don't smear the fruit with the paste.

I am handling watermelon stem-end paste, put up under direction of the Department of Agriculture. Quantity for one carload, only 50c.

RECEIVED WOUNDS WHICH INCAPACITATED HIM FROM FURTHER SERVICE IN ARMY.

Durward Groover, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Groover, is at home again after an absence of eighteen months. He began his drive against the enemy which they never stopped till the Huns cried "Enough!" Durward received a wound in his right arm and injuries to his back which put him out of commission. He went to the hospital for sixty days, and in September tried it again, but was discharged because of his back. He was sent back to America just before the end of the year, and has been at Fort McPherson barracks till discharged two weeks ago.

He said his experience had been worth a million dollars in cash, but he would give that much to keep from going through it again.

Mr. Trappell was married and had two children. He was a son of the late Perry Trappell. He had at one time been in the employ of the Southern Express Company at Tampa, Fla.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE TANK KILLS TRAPNELL

WILLIAM LANIER ALSO NEAR TO DEATH'S DOOR FROM BURNS HE RECEIVED.

George R. Trapnell, Jr., (Bobby), aged about 30 years, died Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, and Mr. W. Lanier, aged about 45 years, is at death's door as a result of the explosion of gasoline at the Lanier home Friday evening.

Trapnell was agent at Metter for the Standard Oil Company. Friday evening he drove out to Mr. Lanier's place in the country about dusk to fill his tank with gasoline. As he backed his truck into the garage and began pouring the gasoline into a tank, Mr. Lanier walked up with a lighted lantern. Mr. Trapnell noticed his presence just as he walked up and cautioned him not to come nearer. At the instant he spoke, the gasoline ignited and the flaming fluid was scattered over both men. Mr. Trapnell ran down the road for a short distance and began rolling in the sand to extinguish the flames. Mr. Lanier's wife came out with a bucket of water and dashed it on her husband. In the meantime others came up, but not until both men were badly burned. The clothing was burned entirely off of Mr. Trapnell, and his body and limbs burned to a crisp. He was able, however, to walk to the house after his clothing had been burned off. Mr. Lanier was burned most severely on his lower limbs.

Mr. Trapnell was married and had two children. He was a son of the late Perry Trappell. He had at one time been in the employ of the Southern Express Company at Tampa, Fla.

WEEVIL EXPERT WARNS AGAINST WEEVIL PANIC

TELLS FARMERS THAT IT IS A MISTAKE TO FLOW UP THEIR CROPS AT PRESENT STAGE.

Prof. L. E. Rast, district farm demonstrator and boll weevil specialist, who has come to this section to aid the farmers in every way possible to combat the boll weevil, asks that this paper warn the farmers of this section against a panic over the boll weevil, as now seems imminent.

His advice to the farmers is that instead of plowing up their crops, as is reported general in some communities, they give strict attention to the gathering up of fallen squares and the destruction of the weevils. He declares that with proper care at the present time, the farmers will have no trouble in bringing to maturity at least seventy-five per cent of a crop. This, he believes, will be better than to plow up their cotton and put their acreage in something else at this late date.

SLAKE RUNS FARMER FROM BLACKBERRY PATCH

The boll weevil scare may be playing havoc with the colored population this season, as alleged; but it takes something more drastic than a weevil to drive Uncle Harrison Olliff out of his fence row which he could not mistake. He didn't see the snake, but he knew he was somewhere near about, so Uncle Harrison went right straight up in the air and jumped about four times the estimated length of the snake, which in this instance was 24 feet. That is, he estimated the snake to be six feet long. He thinks also the snake must have had thirty or forty rattles and a button to hold every one of them on. Suggested that it might have been a large boll weevil with wings like a locust, Uncle Harrison refused to admit that he was fooled by any such varmint. He is sure it was a rattler.

A CALL TO VETERANS.

All Confederate veterans of Bulloch county are invited and urged to meet with J. S. Cone Camp at Statesboro on the morning of July 4th. At that time a re-unite of the soldiers of all wars will be held and a barbecue and other refreshments served.

A committee representing the entire county extends this invitation to all to unite in the occasion.

MEANING OF SALUTE AMONG ARMY MEN

ORIGINATED FROM CUSTOM OF ARMED KNIGHTS OF OLD AND SIGNIFIES FRIENDLINESS.

Courtesy among military men is indispensable to discipline. There are certain forms and ceremonies observed among well trained and disciplined officers and men. The observance of them makes the efficient, well trained while the failure to observe them surely indicates the slovenly and inefficient.

The Commanding General, American Expeditionary Forces, cabled the following many months ago:

"I cannot too strongly impress upon the War Department the absolute necessity of rigid insistence that all men be thoroughly grounded in school of soldier. Salutes should be rendered by both officers and men in most military manner with especial emphasis on rigid position of soldier saluting and when at attention. A prompt military salute is often misunderstood by our people, but it simply emphasizes an aggressive attitude of mind and body that makes a true soldier. The loyalty, readiness and alertness indicated by the strict adherence to this principle will immensely increase the pride and fighting spirit of our troops."

The salute is the foundation of military discipline. Its origin dates back to the knights of old. When a knight rode out armed from head to foot, he wore on his head a helmet with a visor that came down in front of his face. That he might be recognized by friend and foe, the knight had his coat of arms embossed on his shield. When two armed knights, met, the junior or stranger lifted his visor with his right hand, whereupon the other did likewise and from this the military salute grew, but the significance remains unchanged—friendliness. Just as knights who failed to raise their visors knew their enemies so do soldiers who fail to salute proclaim they are not a friend of those they meet.

Now that so many discharged soldiers are wearing uniforms, it is impossible for civilians to distinguish between the discharged men and those in the service. It is noticeable that the thoroughly trained, real soldiers, those who have really done things for the country, whether in or out of the service, are very punctilious about saluting when in uniform. And it will be noted that all officers are just as punctilious in returning all salutes. As one officer expressed it, the acknowledgement by him of a properly rendered salute always gave him a good feeling toward the man.

"STRAY SHEEP" FOUND AMONG CHURCH FLOCK

"MANTLE OF CHARITY" THROWN OVER SOME DELEGATES AT BIG CHURCH CONVENTIONS.

Atlanta, June 16.—That preachers are human, subject to the frailties and weaknesses of the flesh, has been proved at each of the three recent big southern church conventions held in Atlanta, the last general Methodist conference, the Southern Baptist convention and the Presbyterian Laymen's Union. One of the brethren "fell" at each gathering, but the mantle of charity was thrown around each case by the local newspapers.

The very latest victim faced the police recorder yesterday on the charge of "plain drunk", to which he pleaded guilty. He was fined $6, stating that he would return at once to his congregation and instead of reporting to them the events of the meeting, his would be a free confession of his sin. He claimed that he brought a small bottle of whisky—the first he had seen in four years—on the train with him when he came to Atlanta; that enroute he was very tired and decided to take a little nip to hold him together until he reached Atlanta; that after reaching here he realized that it would be detected on his breath, and that another would not make it worse, and so on, until he was taken in tow by a policeman.

Two Texas Methodists caused a sensation by staging a real maniacal escapade at Five Points, the heart of the city, when they were here, while at the Baptist convention one of the visitors was charged with stealing a rather expensive piece of women's underwear, which he said he had promised to a young lady he met, and which he was not able to purchase. The parable of the "stray sheep" is re-enacted at nearly every big church convention in Atlanta these days.

WAS COMPLAINING ALL THE TIME BUT COULDN'T HELP IT

Stomach, Bowels, Liver and Kidneys Had This Man Sick Day and Night. He Found Dreco and His Troubles Were Ended.

Out around Jefferson, Ga., everybody knows Mr. R. O. Williamson and his wife. He is a well known and prosperous farmer. While in Athens recently he said, "My wife and I both suffered seriously from stomach trouble, indigestion, constipation, and kidney ailments. We farmers work pretty hard—we hate to be complaining all the time, but these troubles had me in their grip and I just couldn't help it at times."

"Sick stomach, weak back and a sluggish liver caused a struggle day by day to keep going. Then at night I would have to be up and down with my kidneys, getting chilled through and through, and when morning came I would be about worn out as I was the night before."

"But things took a change for the better when one day I bought a bottle of the new root and herb medicine, Dreco; it seemed that it was made especially to fit my case for in a very short time I could see an improvement. I began to crave food, and then digested it perfectly, leaving no gas in my stomach. My liver got active; my kidneys seemed to take on new life, and I would not have to get up at all during the entire night, and the next morning I would feel refreshed from a good night's rest. My wife is also greatly improved and both of us have become strong friends of Dreco."

Dreco is now sold by all progressive druggists throughout the country and is highly recommended in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Co.—adv.

The Wonderful Call When Baby Comes

Like the Blast of Heavenly Trumpet When Call of Motherhood Is Felt.

Of all the most vital times in a woman's life the coming of baby is fraught with the greatest meaning. Care should be exercised to insure that the crisis is passed in safety. Preparation is avoided by the timely use of Mother's Friend, a preparation of penetrating oils and medicinal ingredients, which renders the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments pliable, and thus tension is avoided. The usual nervousness, nausea, heartburn and stretching pains are counteracted and the period is one of calm repose.

The broad, flat abdominal muscles relax when used, and when baby comes the time at the crisis is less and pain and danger is avoided.

Thousands of women for half a century have used this penetrating external application, prepared especially for expectant mothers, and every woman awaiting the crisis would give satisfaction by helping her. Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. K, Lamer Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, of great value to all women, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and begin its application regularly night and morning.

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer from It?

Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection.

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered. Science has proven that Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain-demons. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs, which infect your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. For treatment of your individual case, address Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. 2, Atlanta, Ga.

The "Green Flag" Smile

Is the Smile Worth While!
The Smile that "Won't come off!"

There was a time when he didn't smile,
When he drove his motor car;
For the engine knocked and thumped and bucked,
And gave him a terrible "jar!"

It's different now, when he takes the wheel,
And starts for his daily spin;
He uses "GREEN FLAG" to lubricate,
And his car runs as smooth as a pin.

There are two great essentials in lubrication. First, the quality of the OIL, and second, the correct grade or "body" for your particular car.

The "GREEN FLAG" MOTOR OIL supplies these two great essentials. It is the highest quality Motor Oil, and is made in varying grades of consistency to meet the requirements of your particular motor. Your dealer has a chart that guides you to selection.

The quality of "GREEN FLAG" is all the guide you need as to a CHOICE of motor oil. Keep it in your mind, always, that you can not exercise too much care in the selection of a motor oil; the correct grade; and never try to run your car without a full supply in the lubrication box. Then you'll keep smiling like the man in the picture.

The following well-known and reliable dealers are exclusive agents for "GREEN FLAG" MOTOR OIL in this county. They guarantee "GREEN FLAG". It will pay you to go out of your way to buy "GREEN FLAG" MOTOR OIL—

BLAND BROTHERS DISSOLVE THEIR GROCERY BUSINESS

From a formal notice elsewhere in these columns it will be observed that Messrs. Glenn and A. O. Bland have dissolved the grocery firm of Bland Grocery Company, A. O. Bland hav-ing bought the interest of his brother.

The change is due to the desire of Mr. Glenn Bland to engage in other lines of employment which he will not be so confining. For the past seven years he has been held down steadily to business, so that his health has been affected. Recently he has been forced to absent himself from busi-ness in an effort to recuperate. He has not announced his plans, but in-timates that he may try farming.

PARTY NEAR CLAXTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bowen very delightfully entertained a number of young folks at their home Thursday evening. Music on the Victrola was furnished throughout the evening. Games were played, after which cream and cake were served.

Those present were Misses Bertie Riggs, Genie Griner, Ida Lewis, Ella Berrough, Edna Dekle, Leila Collins, Nita Kennedy, Mollie Lewis, Ruthie Lee Lanier, Annie Mae Bowen, Lucy Bowen, Alma Brunton, Nita Bowen, Messrs. Lanier, A. J. Bowen, Jr., Rupert Williams, G. B. Bowen, C. L. Berrough, Linton Lanier, Les-ter Riggs, G. P. Green, Gordon Rush-ing, Foster Williams, Gulliver Rush-ing, J. H. Strickland, Carl Franklin, M. J. Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bowen.

A MONSTER RATTLESNAKE.

On last Thursday while Mrs. Don Bland and others were picking huckle-berries, a rattlesnake was found with fifteen rattles, measuring about six feet in length. Mrs. Bland was obliged to step over a log about a foot from her when she noticed the snake in his coil. The same day another snake was killed nearby with fifteen rattles.

FOUND IN A WOMAN'S BEDROOM

REMARKABLE RESULT OF A DISCOVERY MADE IN A TOWN IN GEORGIA LAST WEEK.

Last Tuesday night, just before daylight, a woman in Quitman, Ga., found in her bedroom a drove of mos-quitoes. As quickly as possible, she arose, got a bottle of "Torment" and began spraying it around. In less than twenty minutes every mosquito was a corpse. You will have the same experience if you try it for mosqui-toes and flies. Torment is a new prepa-ration, manufactured by the G. B. Williams Company, Quitman, Ga. It is a sure death to flies and mosquitoes, will not stain clothing nor furniture, and is absolutely harmless to human beings. Sold by all wholesale and re-tail dealers. Price, 25c a bottle.—ad. BULLOCH TIMES AND STATESBORO NEWS

SOLDIERS PLAN FOR BIG CELEBRATION

ALSO TAKE STEPS TO ORGANIZE A COMMANDERY FOR SOLDIERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY.

At the mass meeting of the re-turned soldiers held on Friday after-noon, which was called by Chairman Dr. A. J. Mooney for the purpose of planning for the part the soldiers will take in the homecoming celebration to be held here on July 4th, a pro-gram was agreed upon which was thought by the members present to be fitting and proper for the occa-sion.

There were about a hundred sol-diers and sailors present who voted unanimously to carry out the fol-lowing program on the 4th:

All soldiers, sailors and marines who served either on this side the ocean or in France during the war with Germany are requested to meet at the court house Thursday p. m., July 3rd, at 4 o'clock (fast time) in uniform, to organize themselves into detachments or platoons, and perfect an organization. If any cannot be here on the third, they are urged to meet at the court house on the 4th promptly at 10 o'clock. The uniform will be olive drab trousers and shirt, without blouses, campaign hats or overseas caps, russet shoes. Return-ed sailors will please come in uniform, preferably white.

The line of march will be from the square to the Central of Georgia de-pot, and from there up East Main street through town to Brannen Park on West Main street. Lieut. Rupert Rackley will be in command of the march. If any cannot be here on the third, they are urged to meet at the court house on the 4th promptly at 10 o'clock. The uniform will be olive drab trousers and shirt, without blouses, campaign hats or overseas caps, russet shoes. Return-ed sailors will please come in uniform, preferably white.

When the members of the two branches began to arrive there was an atmosphere of something like si-lent mystery, but it broke forth open-ly and strongly this afternoon when the Atlanta afternoon newspapers got onto what was happening and printed front page stories announcing that the issue will be pitched for settle-ment in the very first days of the session.

Throughout the day this has been the most talked-of and strenuously urged of all the prospective legisla-tion, not excluding the administration bills and it has been the marked exception when a member of either branch has been found opposed to the proposition that the issue must be settled this year so far as the legis-lature is concerned, and that the bill will be passed submitting it to the people at the next general election.

Advocates of the bill, and many of them are from the upper part of the state, take a position similar to that announced by Gov. Dorsey that it is a handicap on the state for it to re-main an unsettled agitation and it should speedily be brought to an end, one way or other by verdict at the ballot box.

For the purpose of the backers of the measure to introduce it simultane-ously in both branches so soon as the roll call is opened for new bills and they claim at this time an excess over the number required to insure its pas-sage. The bill is to be especially strong in the senate and the belief is expressed that it will pass that body within three weeks.

PRESIDENT WILL BE IN U. S. IN TEN DAYS

CABLES SECRETARY TUMULTU THAT HE EXPECTS TO LEAVE BREST THURSDAY.

Washington, June 23.—President Wilson cabled Secretary Tumulty to-day that he expected to leave Brest on his homeward journey Thursday. The president should make the re-turn trip within a week and immedi-ately after his arrival here he will personally present the peace treaty to the senate for ratification. After he clears his desk of accumulated work he will make a "swing around the circle" speaking in support of the treaty and the league of nations cov-enant.

One battleship and four destroy-ers will complete the escort of the George Washington. In mid-ocean four destroyers from the Azores will relieve the original four.

Brest, June 23.—The U. S. S. George Washington which will carry President Wilson back to the United States, received orders today to be ready to sail Thursday morning. The work of loading the transport began this evening.

INTEREST HIGH IN SOLDIERS' PICNIC

PLANS NEARING MATURITY FOR ENTERTAINING BIG CROWD ON THE FOURTH.

With a few minor details to be ar-ranged, plans for the big home-com-coming celebration on July fourth, in honor of the soldier boys, are well nigh complete.

It is going to be a big day, weather permitting. It is expected that the crowd will be the largest ever seen in the town, and possibly more.

With few exceptions, the country districts have responded with their quota of meat and cash for the oc-casion, and those who are yet behind are expected to come in with their just share of the undertaking. It is not a local gathering. Bulloch county is uniting to celebrate the home-coming of the Bulloch county boys.

CAPITAL REMOVAL DOMINATING ISSUE

BOTH BRANCHES OF LEGISLA-TURE WANT IT SETTLED BY THE PEOPLE.

Atlanta, June 24.—A stone moun-tain pushed up in front of the propo-sition now would keep from coming to a vote in this session of the legis-lature the proposition to submit to a vote of the people the issue of re-moval of the state capital from At-lanta to Macon.

When the members of the two branches began to arrive there was an atmosphere of something like si-lent mystery, but it broke forth open-ly and strongly this afternoon when the Atlanta afternoon newspapers got onto what was happening and printed front page stories announcing that the issue will be pitched for settle-ment in the very first days of the session.

WILHELM ORDERED HUN SHIPS SUNK

ADMIRAL VON REUTER CARRIED OUT DIRECTIONS OF FORMER GERMAN EMPEROR.

London, June 23.—Although re-ports have stated that six German vessels were killed and ten wounded when the boats of the German fleet at Scapa Flow were fired upon subse-quent to the scuttling of the German fleet, the Daily Mail adds, and did so because the German emperor had ordered that some vessels should be sunk. About 20 destroyers out of the fifty that were interred were beached during the afternoon. The German crews which were taken to the Victorious were later transferred to other warships.

"What was a crowded anchorage this time," writes a Mail correspon-dent late on Saturday, "is a desolate expanse of water tonight, with here and there the masts of a sunken German ship marking the final resting place of a once proud and mighty high seas fleet."

Admiral Von Reuter, commander of the surrendered German fleet, says he issued an order to sink the ships, the Daily Mail adds, and did so because the German emperor had ordered that some vessels should be sunk. About 20 destroyers out of the fifty that were interred were beached during the afternoon. The German crews which were taken to the Victorious were later transferred to other warships.

Admiral Von Reuter visited Ger-many, where he was warmly wel-comed at the time that the reason for his trip there was that he was ill, but he soon returned, and it is believed that at that time he circulated the order to sink the German ships by signaling the censorship or making signals to the various vessels, an act which was close proximity of the Ger-man ships made quite easy. The Mail quotes the admiralty as denying that the vessels. There were from 150 to 200 men on the big ships and from ten to twenty on the board the destroyers.

These few will stay away from the water or in the ships' bows when the fleet was sunk. Four-teen were landed by the British on Sunday at Nigg, Rushmore, on the northern shore of Cromarty Firth. They were placed in hutments and are being guarded by British troops.

From the behavior of the ships, ac-cording to the Mail, it was evident the sea valves had been opened and in a surprisingly short time the ves-sels, big and small, began to settle down. Every effort was made by the British to prevent the beaching of the ships, and in the case of de-stroyers considerable success was achieved. By 1 o'clock in the af-ternoon, however, what an hour before had been a stately fleet riding calmly at anchor was an array of reeling, rocking battleships, the doom of which was written in their move-ments.

Here a destroyer would disappear amid a cloud of steam, and there a battleship would take her last plunge and disappear in a cloud of spray. One would settle down by the stern and another would keel over on its side only the keel showed above the water. The Derfflinger, Hindenburg, Von der Tann, Moltke and Seydlitz settled down beside each other, the last named turned turtle as she filled with water. Her keel is still showing where she capsized.

The first boat load was towed along-side of H. M. S. Victorious by a drift-er. A German officer in the boat or-dered his men to cheer. They responded with three vigorous "hoos." Craft of every description followed fast to the side of the warship, each towing boat loads of Germans, who were taken on board the Victorious, the deck connection with the sale of that road. The road has been ordered sold by the court on the first day of July. A pre-vious order was issued by the court for its sale, but for want of a satis-factory bid the sale was postponed.

GOES TO BRUNSWICK TO SELL RAILROAD

Supt. D. C. Smith, of the Savan-nah and Statesboro Railway, who is also receiver of the G. C. & P. Rail-road, running from Glennville to Brunswick, left yesterday for Brunsw-ick to spend a week on business in connection with the sale of that road. The road has been ordered sold by the court
